It was impossible to feature all the singers that participated in the 2020 Milnes VOICE Studio this summer in a way in which they were worthy to be presented. This is a small presentation of their talent and we look forward to our audiences hearing more from each and every one of them. These singers are all talented, bright emerging artists and we encourage our audience to take interest in their work and support scholarships to allow artists in this show and others to work with our esteemed faculty in future programs.

GIVE TO VOICE and its future through a donation today.
